So, you're making a list and trying to check it twice, and although most people on your list are naughty, you still want to buy them something nice.

Shi Studio's new line of cufflinks will dazzle that special someone with sparkle and shine. Suitable from the boardroom to the cocktail party, the customizable designs are made from extravagant materials like Chinese brigade silk and sterling silver (black star rectangle model shown).

Based out of Victoria, B.C., Shi Studio owners Cory Judge and Honor Clenska joined forces in 2004 to explore their mutual love of nature and Asian-inspired designs. They also make pendants, leather chokers, belts and belt buckles, earrings and cuffs in many shapes, sizes and colours. All items are produced in conjunction with Vancouver-Island-based artisans, which makes us happy.

$135, for store locations visit www.shistudio.com, or if you're feeling creative, design your own cufflinks and order online
